

There should be provisions to terminate the agreements of renters who abuse the privilege of keeping pets.

My tenant kept two cats in a newly renovated unit.

Other unit residents complained about the stench.

Police thought it was the smell of a dead body and broke the door down.

NCAT refused to terminate her agreement.

Nine months later I had to renovate again.